

Islam — Hajj and Eid-ul-Adha

Hajj Article — Writing Frame

Imagine you are reporting for a newspaper or magazine. You have been asked to research and write an article about a family who have been on the Hajj. Your article should:

- Start with an eye-catching headline;
- Explain what the Hajj is;
- Explain why Muslims make this journey;
- Introduce the family and explain how they travelled;
- Include the family's thoughts and feelings about making the pilgrimage;
- Use lively newspaper language and layout.

You might want to use the ideas below to help you start your paragraphs.

- During this month a very special event will take place. It is called...
- The Hajj is...
- All Muslims must make this journey because...
- The Khan family went on the Hajj together this year. They travelled...
- Mr Khan described the journey as:
- Mrs Khan added:
- Their children told us:

When you have finished and checked your work, copy it out neatly. Try to make it look like a newspaper, with a headline, columns and a picture.
